

EXHIBITION PROPOSAL/AGREEMENT

SUMMIT OBJECTIVE:

Water scarcity now presents a top threat to business. What are the best companies doing to address this challenge?

To meet this wave of opportunity, the 2nd annual BlueTech Forum will gather venture capital investors, advanced water technology companies, customers, thought leaders, researchers, and water industry leaders who will identify where advanced water technology can achieve market penetration and generate significant revenues today.

The BlueTech Forum unites key stakeholders in the development and commercialization of emerging water technologies. This meeting highlights innovative technologies, market trends/opportunities and addresses real-world challenges. Hear first-hand success stories and lessons learned from seasoned water entrepreneurs. See innovative technologies from up and coming blue-tech start-ups. Find out what corporates and utilities are looking for. Learn why investors are coming to the table.

Come join water-tech innovators, large-scale users, industry leaders and venture investors in an intimate setting where you can increase your knowledge and expand your network.

Please join us June 1 at the San Francisco Airport Marriott for this invitation-only forum.
